Agrimix Pty Ltd
Update Nov 2021

All information, including any trial results, provided by Agrimix is considered accurate at the time of publication. The performance and results achieved using Progardes® Desmanthus may vary depending on factors including climatic conditions, soil composition, application methods and farming practices.

It is essential that Progardes® Desmanthus is planted in accordance with the Progardes® Desmanthus Establishment Guide which can be found at <http://progardes.com.au/establishment/>. All sales of Progardes® Desmanthus products are subject to Terms of Supply which can be accessed at www.agrimixpastures.com.au/new-establishment-guide/

Progardes® products are a composite of Desmanthus varieties and include materials covered by Plant Breeders' Rights (refer to the packing label on seed bag for details). Plant Breeders' Rights provide exclusive commercial rights and control over the materials, which they cover. Unauthorised commercial propagation or any sale, condition, export, import or stocking of propagating material is an infringement under the Plant Breeder's Rights Act 1994 (Cth).
